Chase Bryan concentrates his practice in the areas of:

- Construction Law
- Commercial Litigation
- Environmental Litigation
- Financial Services and Insurance Litigation
- Bank and Lender Liability Litigation
- Personal Injury Litigation

Chase is a native Mississippian. He is a shareholder at Young Wells Williams and has over 27 years of litigation and court room experience in the Southeastern United States. His diverse practice includes commercial litigation, bank and lender liability litigation, intellectual property litigation, environmental and toxic tort claims, personal injury defense and insurance and financial products litigation. He has a substantial construction law practice and represents owners, contractors and subcontractors in all aspects of construction law from contract negotiations to arbitration and litigation disputes.

He majored in history in undergraduate school at Ole Miss and received a law degree from Ole Miss in 1992. He spends time away from work playing golf, running, reading and spending time with his wife and three sons. He also enjoys SEC football and cooking on his Big Green Egg.

In addition, he also writes a blog (<https://southernlitigation.org/>) which covers a variety of topics.
